Self-help Pole

BEA013100

Intended Use Guide

The self-help pole (SHP) must always be used with a bed, and only in the positions and configurations as described in this guide.

Installation Note:

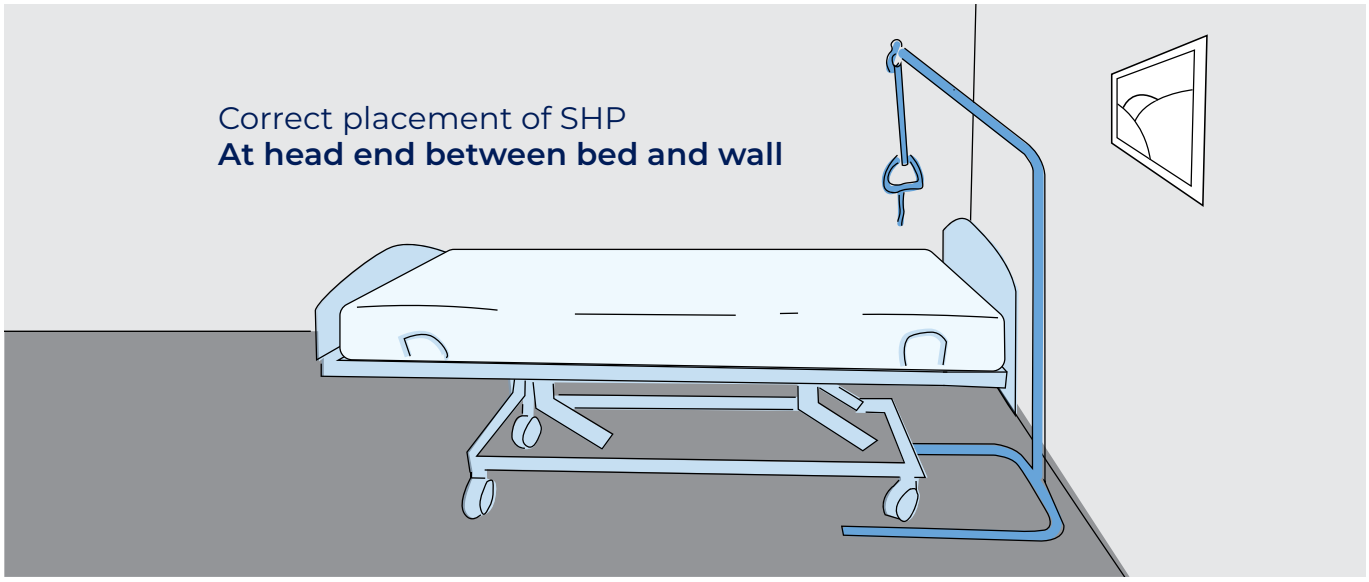

The two long vertical pole halves should be laid flat of the floor when joined together. Do not attempt to assembly these two halves together standing to avoid damaging the joining piece.

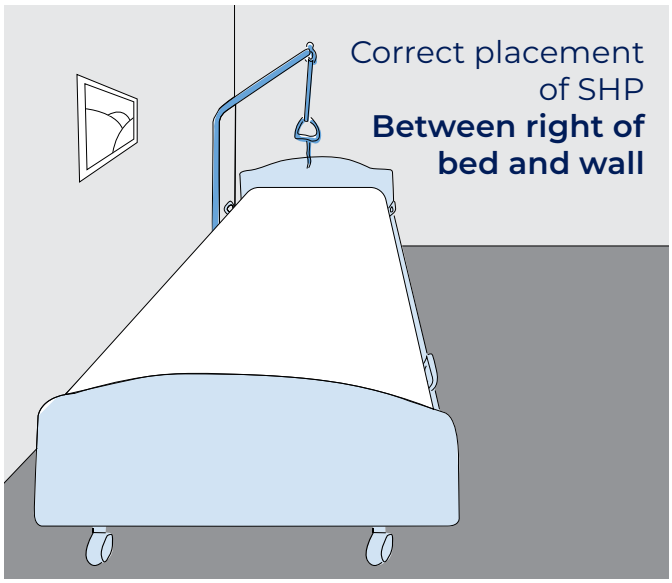

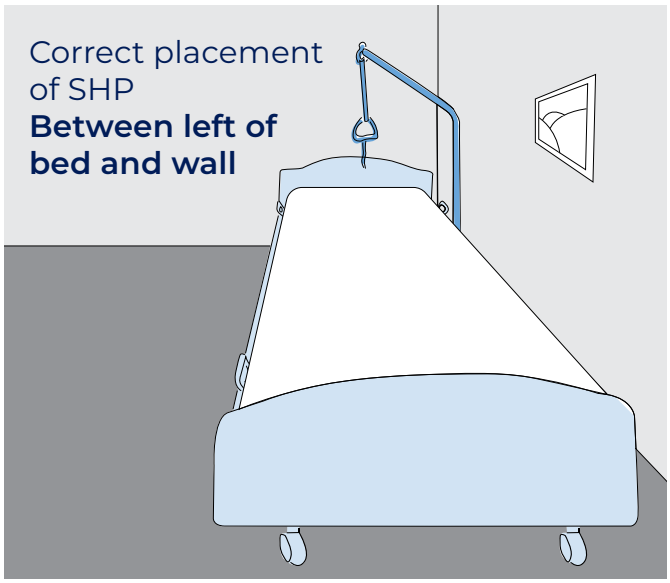

Important In all configurations:

- The self-help pole must be positioned directly up against the supporting wall
- At the same time, the bed should be positioned directly against the self-help pole
- Bed brakes must be on at all times

Important: Do not use with unsupported patient weight. Patient should always be supported by bed
